

The book that I'm writing right now (that doesn't have a name yet, it's just called Random Book) is... not good. Originally I just started writing a random scene and realized I could turn it into a book. The actual plot, I think was gonna be good, but my writing doesn't really do it justice. I think I'm just gonna discontinue it, BUT FEAR NOT!

I have a better plot in mind for a story. It's gonna be like a romance, realistic fiction :D (But it's not really realistic lol [sry I'm just addicted to romance right now]). If anyone wants a summary of what the last book thing was gonna be, I can type it up for you if I want. But anyways, again, I'm discontinuing my last book 😞 but gonna start writing a new one. And I think the one I will start writing will be a better one than the last book.

So yeah, I'm sure no one will actually read this note, but just to let you know if you're wondering what happened to RB.