

A golden warrior that appears in legend was told to appear once again in time of need. This armor was told to have been made by a warrior pure of heart to stop the war that was happening in the sky. This armor is so powerful it has been foretold to surpass that of the gods