

Transparent

Sometimes i feel like i'm transparent

A ghost that people see through

Like everyone thinks i'm nothing

They don't care for me at all

I wish that i was real

That i was a human too

But to them i'm still transparent

In their eyes i'm a ghost

A simple reflection of light

Not a rainbow

A shadow in the night

I wish i was real

And that i could be seen

But i'm still transparent

I'm still just a ghost

That will never be seen

My life is just a speck

In the atmosphere of life

I know i am transparent

When they don't see me

They act like i'm not there

Like i cant feel

Like i'm not real
