

She, queen of the kings, runnin' so fast, beatin' the wind- Venus has controls over Oxygen

Nothin' in this world can stop the spread of her wings- determined. Will never quit

She, queen of the kings, broken her cage, threw out the keys- she will always break free, wether it is mental or physical

She will be the warrior of North and Southern Seas- she's been trained to fight

Got raven hair, it's dark as night -the way she comes off

Icy eyes, outta sight, outta sight - she has icy eyes, reflecting her emotions as they are hard as ice

Her heart, in spite, is warm and bright - she seems rude, but deep down she's not

Her smile awakes the Northern Light - her smile makes Mars light up
Lookin' out, she calls

"Lai, la-da-di-dai-da

Who will conquer all, all?" - she's wondering what will happen if the evil was gone from the island

Her name is

She, queen of the kings, runnin' so fast, beatin' the wind -power over oxygen

Nothin' in this world can stop the spread of her wings (hey) -nothing will stop her

She, queen of the kings, broken her cage, threw out the keys -will always get out of a situation

She will be the warrior of North and Southern Seas -she will be a leader

A firestone forged in flames - flames of war on the island

The wildest card, run the game, run the game -she's wild in an accent military way

Can't stay the same in this world of change -she had to change to adapt to the war

Don't fear the pain, just break the chain -she doesn't show much fear but more anger

Lookin' out, she calls

"Lai, la-da-di-dai-da

Who will conquer all, all?" -will someone rule the island si what she's thinking

(Rest is repeat of earlier)
