

Ok ok story time 😊😊

So I took my dog Charlie for a walk (he is a bit crazy if he sees any other dogs)

I started walking one way and saw a dog...let's just say I quickly went the other way hoping he didn't see that dog. Luckily he didn't but when I started walking the other way and then another dog came 😭 so I toughed threw it and went past that dog and Charlie almost took my arm out then he tried sniffing a cactus ofc he's dumb enough to luckily I realized and stopped him (I was zoned out at the time so I realized it was a cactus luckily in time) 😂....i finished walking my whole neighborhood (I'm shortening it so you don't have to be here as long 😊)

I went back inside and my mom told me to take my other dog Gracie. So I took her I only wanted to walk half my neighborhood and when I was near the end this guy was walking his dog so I turned the other way started walking up the other road when again there was 2 people walking their dog this time so I slowed down stopping and quickly went home after they passed 😂😂
