

Magmite

Magmite is a rare scarlet colored stone that is only mined on one of the major islands of the planet, and a few smaller ones. Many believe it to hold magical properties, bringing power and beauty on any who own the gemstone.

Mostly it is made into jewelry and accessories that only the richest can afford (you can find one drawing from an earlier note with a magmite accessory). When light is shined upon it, it gives off an iridescent orange glow. It is also believed to be made from the magma that lies beneath the islands, carried up by the fog at night.

Should look better as is

Should look better downloaded