

So... this is basically based off of @kittencat 's note... (Check her out!) But I also have been writing a book. I was wondering if any of you would like me to post it? It is based off of KotLC, their fanfics, and Red Queen. :D

If you do want me to post it, make sure to tell me in the comments! Five people have to tell me they want me to post it, and anyone who comments will get tagged in the book!

If I do post it, yall probably know by now I won't post every day or something. I barely have been posting for the KotLC group, but I HAVE been trying. I just have a bunch of homework. So yeah. It'll take a while in between chapters or something but I'll try... :D

Luv yall <3
