Sorry guys for not posting the information as I had promised. I was full with studying and doing homework for the entire time.

The idea I came up with will require all my followers – and anyone else who wants to participate – to comment below if you want to be first.

I'm planning on drawing all my followers' icon for their account. I will label your username and draw out what your icon is.

If you want me to draw your icon first, comment down below to participate. If you don't know exactly what I'm doing, you'll see when I first post the first persons icon.

We only have 2 more followers to gain. We're almost there to our goal. I hope y'all comment and participate in this working progress.

I love you all!!!
