 - FDR would appoint 7 new new justices in the next 4 years due to resignations

3. Second New Deal (1935-1936)

H. Second 100 days

-Why?

- economy had only improved slightly
- unemployment was still high
- GDP (gross domestic product) was still at pre 1920's levels

4. World War II

A. Rise of Totalitarianism

- government tries to exert complete control over its citizens
- idea that individual has no rights; only the rights the government gives them
- all opposition is suppressed by a variety of means
- government is led by a dictator who has full control of the military

1. Italy: Benito Mussolini

- established Fascist Party (1921)
- stresses nationalism and the interests of the state over the individual
- going to convince the Italian people that power must rest in a single strong leader and a small group of loyal party members
- anticommunists
- “Il Duce” ruled from 1922-1943

2. Russia: Joseph Stalin

- became leader in 1924 after the death of Lenin
- transformed Russia into a great industrial nation
- human cost was between 8-13 million people
- many more died of starvation
- by 1939 Russia was a complete totalitarian state

3. Germany: Adolf Hitler

- head of the Nazi Party
- Nazism was another form of facism
- appointed chancellor (Prime Minister) in 1933
- dismantled the Weimar Republic and replaced it with the Third Reich
- anticommunist

4. Japan: Hideki Tojo

- Prime Minister in 1941
- Emperor Hirohito becomes a powerless figurehead
- also head of the military
- wanted more land and resources

B. Roosevelt Verses Congress

-Roosevelt:

- cautiously reaches out to the world
- recognize the Soviet Union in 1933
- Good Neighbor Policy
 - withdrew troops from Latin America
- Reciprocal Trade Agreement Act
 - more power to negotiate trade deals and lower tariffs

-Congress:

- Isolationists
- Neutrality Act
 - outlawed sales or loans to nations at war and involved in a civil war

C. Steps to War

1) "Cash and Carry" Policy (1939)

- revision of the Neutrality Acts
- allowed nations at war to buy U.S. arms in cash only and to transport goods in their own ships
- passed after 6 weeks of debate in Congress
- over 580,000 rifles and machine guns and over 50 old destroyers would be provided to G.B.

2) Tripartite Act (1940)

- mutual defense treaty between Germany, Italy, and Japan (Axis Powers)
- a war on one meant war on all
- this would mean a two-ocean war!

3) Getting defensive (1940)

- Congress increases defense spending
- Selective Training and Service Act:
 - first peacetime military draft
 - one year service in the Western Hemisphere

4) Lend Lease Plan (March 1941)

- Britain simply had no more money
- FDR proposed a new idea:
 - U.S. would lend or lease arms and other supplies to "any country whose defense was vital to the United States"
- isolationists tried to defeat this bill but most Americans are in favor
- under this plan we would also provide aid to Russia after it was invaded by Hitler

5) Atlantic Charter (August 1941)

- FDR and Churchill meet secretly aboard the USS Augusta
- both countries make pledges that will become the basis for the war aims for the Allies
- FDR does not pledge military support
- this begins an undeclared naval war with Germany in 1941
- Senate repeals an act that banned the arming of merchant ships

6) Final Step (December 7, 1941)

- Japan attacks the US at Pearl Harbor in Hawaii
- in two hours:
 - 2,403 Americans were killed
 - 300 aircraft were badly damaged or destroyed
 - 21 ships are sunk or damaged
- December 8th: Congress declares war on Japan
- December 11th: Germany and Italy declare war on US
- isolationism is dead and war has begun

D. American Reaction

- Executive Order 9066 (Feb. 19, 1942)

- led to the forced relocation of approximately 120,000 Japanese Americans living on the West Coast (thought they could be potential spies)
- about 2/3rds were American born
- could be arrested or fined if they didn't go
