

Shadows in the Sunset

(Verse 1)

We were once a fire, burning bright,
Hands intertwined, chasing the night.
But your whispers turned to secrets, shadows in the air,
Every laugh we shared now feels so unfair.

(Pre-Chorus)

Watching the sun dip low, painting skies in gold,
Thought our love was strong, but now it's growing cold.
I can still feel your touch, even as you stray,
But tonight, beneath the twilight, I'll just watch you fade away.

(Chorus)

So here's to the memories, like stars in the dark,
We were two souls dancing, now we're miles apart,
Lost in the shadows, where love once lit the spark.

(Verse 2)

You were my anchor, my guide through the storm,
Now I'm left with echoes of a love that feels worn.
You painted dreams in colors that I never knew,
But now I'm left with gray, just a ghost of you.

(Pre-Chorus)

Watching the sunset bleed into the night,
Every whispered promise feels so out of sight.
Caught in this heartache, remembering the bliss,
But every stolen moment is a lesson in the abyss.

(Chorus)

So here's to the memories, like stars in the dark,
What's left of forever, left with a broken heart.
We were two souls dancing, now we're miles apart,
Lost in the shadows, where love once lit the spark.

(Bridge)

Now I'm standing here alone, the world's in slow motion,
Holding hands that can't hold on to this lost devotion.
Each sunset reminds me of promises we'd keep,
But now they're just whispers, drifting into the deep.

(Chorus)

So here's to the memories, like stars in the dark,
What's left of forever, left with a broken heart.
We were two souls dancing, now we're miles apart,
Lost in the shadows, where love once lit the spark.

(Outro)

As the night falls down, I'll still wish you the best,
Even as I'm broken, I'll carry this unrest.
But tonight in the twilight, I'll say one last goodbye,
As the shadows in the sunset fade away from the sky.
