

Igastrax Gretto

Large, aggressive dinosaur species that can be found in the Texas zone.

Epidermal boss, very thick. Other than this, scales and bones are normal.

As a large dinosaur, the Igastrax Gretto is a very powerful creature. It has a thick, bony skull and a very strong jaw. It is a very aggressive dinosaur and will attack anything that it sees as a threat. It is a very dangerous dinosaur and should be avoided.

The main use of the boss is for building nests and incubating eggs.

When the dinosaur is ready to lay its eggs, the boss will start to grow. It will grow larger and larger, and will eventually cover the whole body.
