

I ran out of comments but. There is a tracer that got lots of people to go against someone for apparently taking her art even tho she traced it and now she's tryna come up with excuses that make no sense. I'm not going to say who bc that's just cruel but I will if they don't admit to it. Now. Post an apology and stop making excuses! U say u got it from Pinterest but the art wasn't even in Pinterest! It's from Tumblr 😊 and u say it's an Ai but AI's generate art from what u tell them to do, not from drawings that other human beings drew. Last but not least, ur now trying to blame the person who "stole ur art" but I read the arguments and it makes absolutely 0 sense. Now. Post the apology already...

I'm not defending anyone but

1. there's a thing called "HARD Referncing", ^^ It's happens often and people get called tracers. (Heck I even do it)

2. AI Steals people's art often and now often generateds Refs which reangy hard to tell that it wa AI!

3. Pin. Posts get removed all the time plus things can get posted every where

4. Don't make people go and find people to harass them.

take this as a learning opportunity.

NOT ~~respectful~~, kind and non-accusatory/hateful way to say things.

Hey, I ran out of comments but I wanted to say something. There is a supposed tracer who called out someone for allegedly apparently taking her art even tho her art seems that she traces art. Now (imo) she's tryna come up with excuses that make no sense to me. I'm not going to say who bc I want to be respectful and not spread harassment even though what they did was wrong. In the best case for this person is post an apology and admit your mistakes and faults. You said u got it from Pinterest but I couldn't even find it on art Pinterest! It's from Tumblr mostly likely as I found it there. But u say it's an Ai but AI's generate art from what u tell them to do (wrong), not from drawings that other human beings drew. Last but not least, now you seem trying to blame the person who "stole ur art" but I read the arguments and to me it makes absolutely 0 sense. I think we can solve this peacefully and come to a solution if you explain clearly and honestly but also post a apology already...
