

Neo, i dont know if you will see this, if your joking with us or not. But either way, i just want you to know that we care for you. This community cares for you, we want you to be safe. You may not know us in real life, but i just cant help to see another suffer.

I dont want to make this about me, but ive been through something similar. i didnt want to live anymore. But when it came to that night.. I realized there is so much to live for, so much to so and see.

You're so young, please dont do it.
