

So tomorrow we're getting new iPads. I have no idea if notability gallery is allowed on them. If it is, I'll try my best to log back into this account but if I forget my password I'll just make an alt. If not, then this will be my last post. My over-reacting thoughts are really bad so in case the worst happens, I just wanna say that y'all in the notability community are genuinely the nicest group of people I've met online. I'm so glad to have been a part of this, even if I'm just a small creator y'all will likely forget about in a minute. I really hate goodbyes, so let's just say... see ya later alligators <3
