The best city on Melon Island to live in is the capital Watermelon City for a few reasons. One reason being it's closest to the freshwater rivers called the Peace Tributary, meaning it's got easy access to fresh water. Another reason being it's got the best view of the Guava Mountains since it's so close to the landmark. One last reason is that it has roads that connect to almost every major attraction on the island like the other cities, the landmarks, the surrounding factories and crystal mines.
