

I have a visit prepared for a nearby vocational school for their art program, they need a quick little portfolio by the end of march and i dont what to put in there, i need any three pieces of my own art. They never said anything about derivitave works not being allowed (aka fanart) but i still want to look a bit more perfessional. I need three finished art pieces, one of them is definitley my realism self portrait from last year, but i dunno what else to put, all of my most recent works are on notability, i dont do this as a choice but because im too broke for a functional ipad / drawing tablet. Another problem is since that most of my work is posted on here, they might do checks to make sure we aren't stealing and then what if they find out about my account and what if they tell my parents :(
