

Guys, I'm not an art thief. I don't steal other people's art, unless your name is Catherine with a K. You can erase most of my drawings and see they were made on notability. And I'm sure many would know if I stole them from another user. So all is good

A response to that one person since I ran out of comments, also April fools. I steal all my art from my sister. You can't even tell if I'm lying or not since y'all don't know her lmao. Good luck figuring this one out guys
