

Hey peeps! I have some new updates for you!

Boyfriend: I still have the same boyfriend! I love him so much! He really cares for me and supports me no matter what! We have been dating for 6 months and it will be 7 months on November 20th. We also kissed!!!! 🥰❤️

Friends: I have made some new amazing and cool friends who care about me and make me feel wanted.

School events I intend: I have went to homecoming and it was the best night of my life and I was so happy to spend it with my favorite person on earth my boyfriend! ❤️

Sport life: I am currently not doing any sports because cross country season is over. I will be starting track in the spring.

My new friend on the gallery: I have been talking to someone on the gallery and we are coming very close friends. Her name is @faithbell754 so if you don't follow her already go follow her. She is a real great friend and I am glad I started talking to her.

School: My school life has been very busy and that is why I am not posting that much but I will be trying to post something every week or two. Thanks for understanding! 9th grade is very stressful and hard for me so I need to focus more on school.

That is all my updates peeps!
Thanks for your time!

Peace love and little doughnuts
