

heres a chat between our HSA characters bc im bored and wanna see how this unfolds lol
I'll start lol

Kylie - Kylie is reading a book in a corner with Starwatcher next to her when she sees a blonde girl walking through the halls, trying to find her class. She closes her book and Starwatcher follows her as she walks over to the girl

"Hi, I'm Kylie and this is Starwatcher. Need any help?" she asks in a kind voice

Adelyn- *has no clue someone's talking to her because her earbuds are in. *holding her skateboard that has like a million random stickers on it

Looks around and sees Starwatcher, stares, looks up at Kylie

"Uh... hello? What did you just ask me?"

Kylie - Starwatcher snorted to herself but Kylie gave her a look and she stopped "I was wondering if you needed any help finding your classes" she repeats calmly, remembering being like that once.

Adelyn- "Oh, wow, uh". She glances at her schedule and gives a sigh. "Yeah sure— !!" Adelyn grabs her hand in pain as her eyes start glowing and so her hands a bright yellow light. Her white streaks in her hair glow, and panic crosses her face Kylie - She looked at the kid in concern and looked around. Starwatcher seemed uneasy about what was going on "Are you ok? Starwatcher Tele." She says and the power jolted into her from her dragon. She reached into the kids mind to see what was happening.*

Adelyn- Adelyn swore under her breath and tried to calm herself down but the stupid ADHD worry kicked in. You can't control your powers, you don't know how, man I suck, WHY CANT I CALM DOWN?!

Kylie - she sucked in a breath. She remembered when this would happen with her and Starwatcher. "Hey kid. Its ok. Everything's going to be ok. Just breathe ok?" she says softly and sends her a mental image of a calm forest, the same image she used to calm herself down years ago*

Adelyn- *looks up and calms down. Takes a deep breath and stands up straight and taps her leg in a rythem (what she does when she's embarrassed or nervous). "Uh..I thanks— don't answer that — ... so where's my class?" She asked not wanting to talk about it
