

Most people don't live
They survive
Caught up in a vicious cycle of
Doubt, grief, and misery
I say it like it is
But what have I got to lose?
I'm all out for helping you
Not hiding from what's real
And I'm living in my dream life
So what's next is to help those in need
Realize
What you're missing out on
With all that doubt, grief, and misery
Is real life right now
Your reality's no warped it's unreal
