

Soooooooooooo....

Ideas for fanfic (has to do with drawing)

- So maybe there's like a cat AAAAAAND a dragon and the dragon can like maybe speak cat? And they become friends (obviously) but I dunno what happens next...
- The dragon is made fun of for being different than the rest and the cat is the same way and they randomly meet in the forest.
- Dragon and cats are sworn enemies because each side has something that can harm the other(tho dragons seem stronger the cats have secret weapon that equals things out) and the two meet randomly and try to bridge the gap between their two worlds
