

So in ELA my teacher thinks that February is the hardest month to get through so she is making us switch seats every Monday so I was sat by my crush and his friend it's very lovely.... Because I found out who he's dating and tbh they don't talk at all they don't even go near eachother and I don't think they were made for eachother..... but his friend thinks he should be dating me 🤑🍲 I agree with your friend.