

I'm not sure if anyone of you guys know the main reason why Ash left notability, I got the okay to say why from them, The main reason why they left was because someone on the platform she doesn't know kept emailing them uncomfortable questions which made them feel very uncomfortable and their mental health being so low and their parents brushing it off as some joke, and them studying non stop for the upcoming ASVAB test at their high school and getting loads of loads of class work turned in so she can pass and graduate they have told and expressed to me that they hope to come back and wants they are in the process of getting the mental help they need, ash does plan on trying to come back around dec 4 or dec 6.
