

Eyes

This is for my style because I can't do anything else :(

eyes are not diamonds no matter what your middle school art teacher said (mine did)

What not to do

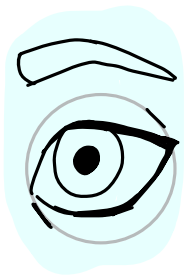

Too much detail! limit yourself!

you could say, it's a style but I find it creepy

Don't bother to draw assumed features best visible in large animal eyes, the pupil does not sit on the front of the eye if you have problems making eyes the same, draw from an angle but there are other ways to draw eyes! Don't be limited by a single style a blush adds dimension and character

Try using one of these to create a character!

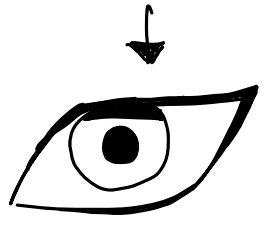

now for color! highlight made using pen or eraser start with this shape pupils not centered even when looking forward eyelashes are simplified into thick lines wrinkles follow eyeball more creases imply age blue tinted shade on eyeball the actual eyes aren't always visible
