

Update on lee / la842546:

1. They currently are on the account @magicarecord

2. They aren't actually banned their whole account is just under review and they need to appeal it (this is the case with most "bannings") they said it would take 3-7 days. Again they didn't do anything wrong / against the rules, I have a feeling though it might've been the meowbaah drawing that made people mad (even though that was like a month ago)
