

hello, it's anne/annie. I know I've pretty much abandoned you for 2/3 months, and I'm really sorry for betraying you all. this is really short, but I really want to apologize to the people I've said I was going to make collabs with. I run out of motivation easily and can be busy, which is why I take tons of time to make a single drawing. I know I've been a traitor to you, and I don't expect forgiveness, as it's what I deserve.
