

hi you guys! So I have some news for u guys...and it's not all bad! So every year our school holds this thing called speech tournament! You gather ur friends and find a speech and u memorize it and preform it in front of the judges. So it's kinda a lot and I've done it every year with my friends :) since we couldn't find a 9 person script 😂 we divide into groups of 3 every year and other high schools compete as well :D it's really really fun too 😊 so this year we did our rotation thingy and I'm with Tam and Violet 💕 then it's Destiny, Finn and Starr and Charlie, Alice and Jake so we always have a bunch of fun but since we have to memorize we go to each others houses and have to do all that stuff so I can't be super active since speech season has begun 😭 I'll try to post some art and my 100 special and I'll like and comment but not too much posting 😞 sorry bout that guys prob should have told u earlier 🙄 anyways we had practice today and it was horrible, we kept laughing and loafing around with Tam's cats that we forgot to even to it and when we started doing it we kept messing up 😂 I think we have a lot more work to do...how's ur group Destiny? Bye <33
