

Hello people of the universe! Friendly reminder I am going on spring break soon. I will be posting up until April 6th. I want to take a break from drawing and rot in bed for five days. I will post my email in my bio if anyone wants to talk (I'm always free and would like to talk to new ppl). Again I will be rotting away in the darkness of my room for my spring break and might post something I don't know. But reminder April 6th I'll be on Easter break.

Thank you! Have a nice day, drink water, try eat something small, and love yourself :)
