

Chapter 1 (for personal reasons, names [other than mine] are changed)

As I walk into class, i immediately notice. He's not here. I look over at my girl best friend, Kay, and ask "where's Brandon?" only for her to reply with "Courtney...You're going to want to sit down for this..." I froze before responding "What...?" I stared at her for a moment before saying "Kay...please tell me he's okay.." i slowly sat down in my seat as she said "He overdosed this morning...We were talking and he just fell so i got the nurse but before she got there, he told me...Mary cheated on him, i didn't know what to do." Tears immediately started to well in my eyes. "No...Why would he do something so wreckless..." I managed to whisper.
