

A moment of silence for everyone we lost during the drama pls...

Look, everyone who was here during the drama knows that qibli's and Vixen's actions weren't right but think about this, was banning them really necessary? Just ignore them, it's not hard, besides.. break ups are going to happen and or cheating, we all need to be more reasonable with our actions, if anyone who's having relationships problems is reading this, keep it to yourself, you'll only make things worse by telling everyone here..