

I'm thinking about changing how to draw my comics. Like, should I keep the classic ol'

Or should I do the box thing. You know the like... box thing. THE BOX THING YOU KNOW THE-

Maybe release drafts with numbers?
Or number it at release?
Idk man.

the boxes look more "appropriate" in my opinion but might limit me from going crazy with just one page of said comic. The lines though? I don't know. A lot of my older comics have them. But maybe I do need to incorporate the boxes. Or mayyybeeeeeeee I could have them go back and forth? Like box here, line here? Might be a little too much though. I need opinions people!

Also good job USA team on The Olympics :)
