

When you finally get a test back and you fail it and then you ask the one smart kid what they got and they tell you that they got a 70% then start crying like what 😳 then they say omg you did so good i just don't understand