

DRAMAAAAA :3

okie so... my friend is a therian/furry and wears tails to school. There's this group of girls in our choir class who are preppy (obviously) and make fun of him and his pronouns. Today though, was different. They decided to make a "try not to cringe circle" around my friend. And what they did the whole time was make fun of therians and trying to get him to do/say "cringe" things. After a while, I got really angry and decided to go over and whisper in his ear, "They're making fun of you, you know. Do you wanna ditch them? They're so rude." And he said, "I know they're making fun of me, I don't care. But yeah. I wanna go." So we scooted over where my gf and her friends were sitting and sure enough, the preppies said, "oh. What? Come back! Oh- whatever. I think we're done." And left into their little gossip circle to talk about us and occasionally point and laugh. There were some girls I talked to that were nice and didn't even notice that their friends were being mean. One person apologized many times to me. But then- I found out that in one of the classes my gf has with them, they said, "If 'SHE' (EW) shows up to the choir concert in a tail, I'm gonna rip it off, then push 'HER' off the stage." Like EW WHAT
