Buff: literally everyone he talked to.

Although most of us never got to know him in real life he was a very good and fun-loving person. The Gallery will never be the same without such a great person. Please offer your prayers for him, his friends, and family. This is indeed a great loss. Those who knew him personally will never live their lives the same. I really feel bad, especially because I never got to really know him and now it's too late. Too late for all of us.

Remix this and pay your respects to @drOgon_b0y, who although we do not even know his name, as someone in our Gallery Family we will all mourn his passing together.
