

lk this is like corny n sh but I lowkey just wanna vent and get at least someone's opinion on this.

I don't really know how to start this off but so I'll be straight up. I hate being trans. Yes, I want to be a boy and identify as one. But I want to be a real one. And I'm not saying that trans men aren't real men. I'm just saying I want to be like- a biological man. You know. And I've been feeling this way for a long time now, it's just I've been telling people that I'm a girl because I'm scared of transitioning. I guess it's because I feel bad? I don't know. I feel bad because my parents want me to be this feminine girl, but I really don't want to. I want to be a boy, but I don't want my parents to be mad at me or anything like that. I've been told so many times that I'm a "very pretty girl." I guess that also makes me feel bad for wanting to transition or even be a boy. Cause I guess people will think I'm "wasting my beauty" or something like that. I really don't know what to do anymore I'm so confused. For now I'm going by he/him, and identifying as a boy. But I lowkey dont want to identify as transgender. Just- like, a boy I guess. Is this like transphobic I'm sorry bro 🙄
