Introduction:Scorpio is a hybrid as such he hangs out at pantala with his father and at possibility with his mother he loves running and flying around and acts dumb when really he's smart he doesn't like following orders and won't ever let anyone use his magic as a tool he's friends with most people but doesn't trust them enough to tell them he's a animus dragon he's friends with sparkie and erie when he got the news that spark was having dragon nets he ended up coming late because he was at pantala but when he arrived he pointed out spark was a mix of rainwing seawing And sparkie entrusted him with spark and ever since then he defended spark whenever others called him a freak saying are they calling him a freak(the him being Scorpio)and giving him a tip on all the good things of being a mixed breed Scorpio runs the mixed breed class at jade mountain academy explaining all the good things mixed breeds do he still hasn't told anybody he's a animus he also doesn't care on how much he uses his animus magic but when he met sparkie he was the first to be told that Scorpio has animus magic and he might need to tell everyone if he wants to protect his friends and family.

Ps: his family doesn't know he has animus magic

All the things he enchanted:a neck less=to protect his soul

A earring=to make him immune to fire venom poison ice breath and drowning

A diff earring=to make a little twinge when ever spark was getting bullied

A bracelet=to always keep him warm and safe

A flower band that was given to him by his mom=to always fix itself when broken and to protect himself from other animus magic and to send a mental twinge whenever someone either touches his animus touched stuff or somebody used animus magic and to always teleport back to him if it ever got separated from him but if he gives to somebody they gain it's effects until he says "come back".
