

Do you have a  CRUSH? Bingo they smile at you and it makes your day you pretend that you find them annoying you talk about them constantly with my friends

you've dreamed about them you blush whenever they talk to you

I don't really blush... IDK when they get in trouble you are in denial that they did something wrong Kinda... Eh??

you're afraid to embarrass yourself around them a little...

you like to imagine that you're together

Sometimes

you catch them staring at you and your brain explodes

They barely stare at anyone whenever someone mentions them you immediately start eavesdropping

Everyone whispers too much you subtly watch them in the halls

Not really, it's creepy you try to look nice to impress them

Eh? Sometimes

when someone finds out, they try to hook you up you catch yourself thinking about them too much

Yeah... Definitely I do it almost every day But IDK

you have a hard time talking to them

Not really, I just get nervous you know you'll never be together
