

I can't stop listening to the new deco27 song "monitoring" and "rot for clout" they're fire 🤩

I think I'm getting back into my mha phase again (oh dear Lord)

I mean ik it's over but oh well 😞

Also im now becoming so obsessed with the fandoms I'm in that I want an oc for each one so maybe an oc..? ldk

I think me and my friends summoned a ghost or smth in my aunts basement on thanksgiving by accident..

So my aunt has a basement with a really creepy as crawl space. I have a friend who came for thanksgiving that likes creepy stuff so we decided to hang out in the basement. There's a walk-in closet in the basement that if you go in and go to the left, there's a hole in the wall that leads to the crawl space. Me and my friend (we're gonna call her j) and her little sister went into the closet and sat outside the hole. J had an ouiji board app on her phone (that I'm pretty sure is fake) that we decided to use. We asked it questions, and its name was "Martin" we asked it what day it died and it said "270418" which we decided probably meant April 27th, 2018. Then we just asked what we looked like, and it kept saying "stupid question". We then asked it what was in front of us and it said "you'll find out tomorrow". We mentioned Jesus and it just said "teacher" (I guess it wasn't wrong? 🤪) After that we asked what that meant and it said "play with me". The app glitched out many times and we had to restart. We just went back to eating dinner after that, and then went back down into the basement, and then asked it a question from that one audio that goes "How did you die jack-" "how many pickles can you shove up your as?" It said six, then we asked how it found out, it said "for love". We then just closed the app without saying anything. Later, my j and her family left. I was going to sleep over, and of all places to sleep, I had to sleep in the basement on the couch next to my brother. At one point, (I'm guessing it was about 1-2am) I woke up. It was pitch black, and I couldn't really move? I didn't see anything, but my brother was also awake but not moving, and my parents and other little brother were on a pullout bed by the closet doors, and I heard moving over there too. I eventually woke up and was fine.
