When I didn't get a good grade (85, it's not bad but he's like the smartest kid) the kid behind me shows the smart kid he says, "it's her grade, you shouldn't show it to people" - like...

and then this same kid drops papers we were passing forward, the smart kid goes to pick them up :- (like I already had passed up the other papers, but the kid forgot to give it too me)

Is it just me...
