

TWS like some gross stuff and also fire and descriptions of murder and oh car crash oh no oh no you are playing as auggie alright so this family moves in next to auggies family and the kid is really really shy and lonely so auggie goes to see what he's like and stuff and then they become best friends (their in elementary school) and then like a bunch of years go by and in senior or junior year (idk which one it's confusing) winnie fell and broke his leg (IMPORTANT ILL GET BACK TO THAT) and then auggie and winnie just stop talking to each other and then they graduate high school and winnie is gonna move away to a place that's closer to the university he got in to and the parents don't know they aren't friends anymore so they tell them to take one last drive together and in the car auggie asks winnie why they stopped talking and he imagines winnie saying that he's a piece of trash and he didn't ever wanna be friends with auggie but he didn't actually say any of that but then they stop suddenly because they realize they're in a blizzard which doesn't make sense because it's the middle of july and stuff so auggie kicks down the car door to get out and they realize that their back in the same clothes they wore last year when winnie broke his leg. they kind of just stand there for a moment and then they realize that they have to walk to get out of the storm because the car broke down so they start walking and they stop when they see versions of their younger selves dead and holding hands. they were terrified but they were confused what could have killed it when a huge monster that was an elk mixed with a bear (representing auggies old stuffed bear toy and winnie's stuffed elk toy) and it chased them and then they decide to stomp on the ice theyre standing on to let the monster fall in (and it does) but auggie slips over the side and winnie barely catches him but he says his hands are so numb he cant get any strength to pull him up and he lets go letting auggie slip down the ice cliff. when auggie wakes up hes in winnie's house, but its full of boxes like they just moved in (like at the begining of the game.) he remembers winnie saying he had a lighter in his room but the door is locked so he goes around the house looking for the key. he finds it and grabs the lighter, but when he lights it he sees like statues of him all in winnie's room. Then winnie apeears and says that he jumped down the cliff after him. He then explains that he thinks this is all a flashback their getting because their about to die in real life. and they need to defeat the best to go home. They go and stand beside the stairs. auggie (player) is given two options. push winnie down the stairs or dont. if you dont, auggie and winnie have a talk about how when winnie broke his leg, auggie didnt help him because he was jealous of winnie. they then become actual best friends and defeat the beast by lighting it on fire. then they wake up in the real world. in reality, they got in a severe car crash. winnie only had a few scratched and bruises, but auggie broke his left leg. if you decide to push winnie, you wake up in the car crash and winnie dies instantly. oh no oh no you murdered my baby :((
