

Is there anything you can do/ you've achieved/ you possess that you're kinda proud of but you never told anybody because you were afraid it might come off as boastful or weird? Fear no more, cause here are:

Our biggest flexes:

@white_swan: At the age of five I could already read.

@luna_sam_tgt: at the age of 3 I could already sing

@astro_247: in crk I have all the bts cookies (I don't even like bts that much)

@silly_miffy: i have partial heterochromia and i get compliments a ton for it (it means that i have heterochromia, but it's only one streak in one eye that's a diff colour, not a whole eye)
