

Writing about all the good things in my life, so I don't cry 😊

Uhm. Weird kids like me? Is that a good thing. No. I mean, at least someone likes me. 😭

I like a kid... we call him cantaloupe... and I really like him 😍😏 not dating tho

I'm single. I don't think that's good tho.

It's almost thanksgiving break. And imma ask cantaloupe right before the break.

I have been really stressed about the kids that like me. I have been getting low grades because my brain is always thinking about what those rats will do next. That's not good, but anyways 🙄🙄

It's almost the weekend

I have art club tonight! So, I may or may not watch cantaloupe creepily at his basketball practice.

And do henna, that says I love cantaloupe

I'm in math class rn. I may or may not be watching him rn.

I asked my friend to send me a pic of cantaloupe when he was in elementary school (in the yearbook. And omg he was cute. But I prob should not be crushing on a 10 yr old pic of my crush. DONT WORRY GUYS. HE IS MY AGE.
