

Hello my lovely people

I have to tell you all something and maybe you won't like it but it's gonna have to do but I might have to put part one of the story that I want to make on a little bit of a hold because of 2 reasons number one I'm going to my moms this weekend and number 2 I've kinda hit a wall on making characters because I don't have to many characters but that's why I've come to all of you if any of you have a cool wof character that I should make a bio or introduction to let me know cause I've kinda ran out of ideas ok thank you bye
