*eh em*

First order of business! (@one_axolotl, @kittencat, and others not tagged in the KotLC group part of description, ignore this paragraph thingie. :D)

Look... (*thinking about what to call you* [idk if "guys" would be offensive...?])

I honestly don't know what to do with this group. I'm sure you all probably just... kinda like... forgot about this, but I just needed to write this note to get it off my guilty conscience. (Or is it conscious? Heck, why would I know? I don't have an English major.)

So yeah. That's my great ultimate plan. Or that was my great plan. Sit here and do nothing while my brain slowly starts to deteriorate from the amount of times I screamed to myself "DO SOMETHING WITH THE GROUP! OR AT LEAST WRITE A NOTE OR SOMETHING!"

I might just have to disband it...? (Not that any of you care... BUT I CARE OKAY?)

I'll figure it out. But knowing me, if I do decide to disband it, I would be too lazy to let you all know. So just think about this note as a goodbye? (SORRY T-T)

SECONDLY! (Anyone interested in my new story I'm writing with my incredibly poor writing skills? Maybe? Maybe not? Think about it.)

(Anyone who doesn't know what I'm yapping about, just check the note before this about a new book I'm writing)

I'm working on this kinda like outline, and just letting you know, it's gonna take a while. Please be patient with me... (yeah, I'm not a hypocrite *note the sarcasm*)

But I have this really really

Well that's it for an apology and update.

LOVE YOU ALL AND THANKS FOR STICKING WITH MY PEA-SIZED BRAIN! <3
