

When me and my twin brother were born we looked nothing like our parents, so they took us to a place where they can find more answers, they found out that me and my twin brother both were born with magic, my magic helps control lust and love while my twin brother has the most important one he is able to control waves, water, rain, any types of liquid, I usually beat up him sometimes because he makes fun of my height mainly because his a jerk, anyways back to my story, we were sent away from our parents to a village called yerikosho (yeri-ko-sho) any magical creature or human that is magical, spirit guide, witch, wizard, fairy, siren, mermaid, angel, devil, goddess, god, you name it anything that is magical or powerful will be sent to yerikosho. Yerikosho is a pretty good and calm village, I made a lot of friends when I was five, my brother was a quite one soft spoken sometimes people will need to tell him to speak up a bit because he was really shy around people throughout age five and ten, when he was eleven he started making friends and he would go to social events, he would even steal from the market, he was a rebel, I was would just exist, I would mainly read a book or two but I still had my friends, yerikosho is the type of place where you can study magic freely, us it freely, and it's a free place you can see gays, lesbians, bi people transgenders, polyamorous people, pan people you name it! You can find them everywhere around the village, in yerikosho nothing can stop you except the great emperor he can kill with in seconds, I know this because me and my brother witnessed our caretaker die in front of us, his magic is so strong, I've been studying him for eight years, and I still can't find an answer, he left and came the next day to our little cabin, he took me and my brother in, and called us his sons or something like that, he took us when we were twelve, at twelve I changed a lot, my looks, my weight, and my attitude. I was no longer that nice little boy anymore, the great emperor thought me so many things, he thought me how to fight for myself he thought almost everything he knew, I dated a boy named Charles he was a vampire we dated for a couple of months and we just decided to go our own separate ways, my brother is jealous of me because the great emperor likes me more than him, and hired me for a job but that story but is for a different time, anyways I dated many guys and broke up with them I'm not the best in having relationships with guys, I usually dated girls, but their is this one guy at work I really like he isn't much to look at but for me he is perfect. His name is Owen. Owen is part dragon and part elf, he mainly wears his glasses with a white long sleeve shirt, he lives in the rich part of yerikosho, I just care about his love and affection, sometimes I wanna use my magic on him but the great emperor told me and my brother to not misuse our magic, the great emperor told us this once when he took me and my brother in he told us "hear no evil, see no evil, speak no evil" he said that because he thinks the humans are evil and cruel, I've never been out of yerikosho so I don't know how the humans are. Anyways this is the story in how I got my nickname "pink"

That's enough Eden go scaring me, I'm always the mean one not you

That's why you are a pan
