

Story Time (This actually happened)

Ok so when i was 1 years old my real dad left me idk why i'm guessing my parents got into a fight but my parents weren't married at that time they were just dating and so i was 7 years without a dad i only had my mom to support me then my mom meet this dude at work and they were both single they started talking and flirting with each other and they got married tbh i never really liked him but then they had my brother Elijah and like that was his real child he obv favored him and then way later on in life my they had my other brother named Luke and to this day all my dad cares about is 20% Luke 5% me And its 50 50 between Elijah and my mom.

-Angie