• Starving for Attention

Its the zombie apocalypse! Everyday is another struggle to survive whether you are undead or alive. A conscious zombie who enjoys junk food is bored out his mind one day finds a stern human to keep him entertained. The human keeps the zombie around as the human finds the zombie interesting. It is the end of the world, yet these two have found a way to keep each other's company. I wonder what antics can come from this unlikely relationship. UPDATES WEEKLY MON 10am CST

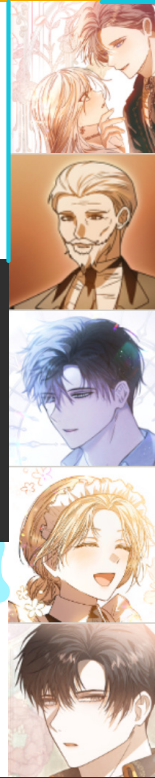

• I Grabbed the Leash of the Blind Beast

- So cute !!

EVERY MONDAY

When an average twenty-something wakes up in the battered body of a nameless extra from a romance novel, all she wants is to go home. But first, she'll have to see the story through as Rona, the maid of Grand Duke Ileon, the novel's hero who was blinded by poison. She just has to make sure the heroine restores his sight with a special flower so they can have their happy ending -- easy enough, right? With a plot gone awry, Rona's dangerous past, and the grand duke's affections, can Rona stick to the story?

• Humanoido

- not done yet, but good so far

EVERY SUNDAY

Meet Ido Noh, a shy first-year high school student with a severe stutter that makes talking to people nearly impossible. Her life changes when she meets Se-i Ryu, a robot with a mysterious past and a quest to reclaim his lost memories. Can Ido find her voice with this unlikely friend, and will Se-i uncover the secrets of his origin?

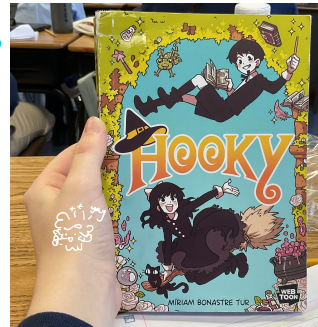

• Hooky

(I actually have the book printed)

hand reveal!?
