The schedule was finally done.

"Anyways, right now think we are supposed to be....almost done with breakfast! We gotta run!, Aida exclaimed.

Mei quickly put her book down and rushed to the door.

"Well, what are you guys waiting for? Punctuality matters, does it not?"

That was the first time I had heard Mei's voice, well at least in a full sentence.

"Okay! Let's go!" I said, as we all rushed out of the door.

As soon as we entered the Dinner Hall or Breakfast Hall, all eyes were on us as we walked in. Mei covered her red cheeks with her uniform's cardigan, and Aida was just facing front but still, probably embarrassed in her mind. I was just... dying.

"Miss Mei, Aida and Mallory, please explain yourself this instant!" The headmistress basically yelled at us, and it echoed around the room! Sigh.

Hope u like it!

Really long :o
