

IDEA

This idea mostly applies to Notability users who use the Gallery via a school-controlled iPad, who also have a compatible device at home.

My idea is: safety usernames

If your school blocks the gallery, create a home account. In your user profile/description, whatever you want to call it, have a safety username. Create a username and check that no one else has already taken it by entering in the gallery search bar. (Ex. Search @example12345)

Take that username and put it in your description.

Check your favorite users' profiles and keep their safety usernames on your own note.

If anyone knows my fellow hamilnerd @halfblood, someone have them make a home account. We'll miss them, if not.

CREATE A SAFETY USERNAME!!!!
