

Another wings of fire character:sandstorm (scorpios mom)

Name:sandstorm

Tribe:sandwing

Colors:gold amber colors with some gray

Ability's:can poison enemy's with tail barb breath fire hide in sand go long times without water withstand a lot of heat has animus powers

Introduction:sandstorm hasn't always been the happiest she has always lived a sad life ever cents her dad died but when a bunch of dragons came flying over the sand she still wasn't much better but when one of them came down to visit she saw him and asked if he was ok he said that he was tired and needed a break sandstorms heart skipped a beat she didn't know what this feeling was love happiness she knew he was the one that would be her soulmate especially when he said she looked pretty now a couple years later they have a son named Scorpio and she swore that she would protect him with her magic and life but life can be hard with a 14 year old dragon who already has a job at jade mountain academy with the destiny dragon nets so she made a little flower band for him to always bring good luck and to keep him safe and to always have fun one time Scorpio introduced this rainwing seawing hybrid named spark and she questioned Scorpio on why he would take this dragon under his wing in which he said because he gets bullied a lot and could use help and she new he had a good heart especially to other dragons now if only he would follow orders.

All the things she animus touched

A bracelet:to keep her warm and safe

A flower band:to always keep Scorpio safe

A necklace:to keep her love safe and happy by doing something to keep him happy